1. Close knit friends Chloe Primack, Haley Noone and Julia Gavin pose together for a group photo. You can tell that these girls have known each other for a long time!

2. Chloe Lindahl lets her locks down as she absorbs the knowledge of her mentor.

3. Here, a gaggle of newcomers say 'CHEESE!' for our editors.

4. Carly Doherty-Crestin shines bright for the camera, even after finishing up her work in class.

5. Even knowing his fate as a freshman during 'spirit week', Maxwell Berford steps up and preps for this years spirit-relay.

6. Jake Kivekas washes off his middle school dirt and is all fresh and ready for high school! 'The thing I like most about highschool is that you get more freedom than in middle school.' And really, who doesn't love more freedom?

7. Two freshmen girls Emily Nylen & Nicole Serechal enter the hallway, excited to attend their new classes, but little do they know what the next four years will throw at them.

8. Watch out for these stunning devils. Tyler Starr and X they'll be roaming the halls for sure...

9. The hallways are the perfect time to find wandering freshmen looking for their next class! Deanney Hooley and Shannon Sullivan take a quick break from their search to smile.

10. McKenzie Fosterhall studies quietly sips her brew, jams to her beats, and gets used to her highschool flow.

11. Football studs, Shane Grady and Trevor Smith take advantage of each others knowledge to prep for a quiz.

12. Tommy Giroff, Dylan Perkine, and Billy Benavas, class president, take a quick breze. Man, these guys sure love sports.

Freshmen

13. Harrison Bertera takes a break from a long directed of studying. Looks a little too excited for the break!

14. Freshmen vs. Locker.

Alec Kneedler can't seem to get that thing open...he'll probably need Buddy's help.

15. A friendly bunch of freshmen consisting of Taylor Hannibal, Ebiese Egan, Sydney Dumont, Lexi Adams, Kelsey Daly, Nora Hughes, and Jake Sadoway al chill out together in class.

16. Lauren Galant is ready to sink some shots and ends up beating the seniors in this year's competition.

17. Friends, Katie Maidment and Chloe Bio hook up to some awesome tunes.

18. Jake Kivekas, Thomas Cressy and Drew Beaulieu are the three best friends that anyone could ever have!

19. Bill Vaisvilios leads the freshmen to victory over the sophmores in the tug-o-war during mis-match day.

20. Duncan Tolstrup helps out his bro, Jojo Kranson, by throwing up signs around the building for the class treasurer.

21. Bucking down on his freshman reading requierements is Stephen Solimeno.

1. Dressed in black, Gabby D'Agostino, Miranda Arvila-Rice, Kate Brown, Carli Hancock, and Moira Callahan represent the IHS soccer team on game day.
2. Injured cheerleader Jillian Cox hitches a ride from her teammate Kerrie Janvrin, instead of hobbling around on her bunk all the way to lunch.
3. Gretchen Martineau shows off her teaching skills by helping her bestie Abigail Labrecque prepare for an upcoming test.
4. Class president, Laura McCormack, horses around by cracking jokes and "getting handsy" with a friend during directed study.
5. Loma Burdick struggles to connect to the schools new Wi-Fi. Hopefully she will be able to log on and finally do some good research.
6. On mismatch day being uniform is everyone's last worry. Katherine Angel, Ciara O'Flynn, and Julia Meedzan show how us to clash patterns the right way. Julia throws up a "lazy peace" sign to show just how little she cares.
7. J/V Smith masters the skill of multitasking, and get his homework finished before directed ends. JV also takes pride in a of his laptop stickers.
8. Gabby D'Agostino, Olivia Kubaska, Savanna Hill, Katelyn Brown, and Skylar Hambley look like they all got face smacked for some abstract art project by a troubled artist...Go spirit week!
9. Jake Warren and Christian Colum put on a big goofy grin during directed study.
10. Hardworking Sofie Gadbois and Maddi Pitcarn put their noses to the grindstone, and choose to focus on their work during their time in directed.

Surviving Sophomore Year

The Permit Test

The majority of sophomores take Driver's Ed in order to pass the permit test. "The test was surprisingly easy, it was the anticipation and atmosphere of the DMV that scared me," says Amelia Young.

PASSING

CHEMISTRY

"The hardest part about Chemistry is memorizing the equations, but I enjoy it," says Alex Mootafian. Chemistry is one of the more difficult classes sophomores must tackle in order to pass the 10th grade.

PSATs

Most sophomores choose to take the tiring, yet optional PSATs. "Although the test was stressful, especially when taken with a concussion, the preparation will be beneficial for the real SAT in the future," says Carli Hancock.

1. Justin Bergner, Charlie Galanis, Kaitlin Robinson, Natasha Vasilades, and Micha Hardie take a break from their chemistry work.

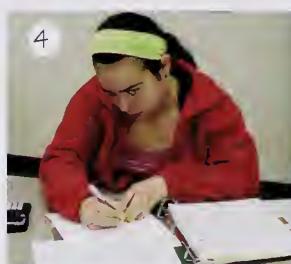

2. Eliza Statie makes good use of her technology to finish her classwork.

3. Jared Conway gets geared up and ready for a lab.

4. Pity the fool who interrupts Jessica Looby's classwork!

5. Lily Stewart and Harrison Corder lock arms and goof off before lunch.

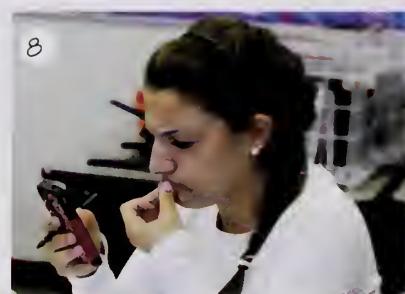

6. Jordan Petto takes time to contemplate some of life's bigger questions.

7. Corey Elliott, Chris Remy, Robbie Glavin have a swell time just kicking back and getting some work done.

8. Marisa Iannitto takes a Rodin-worthy pose.

9. Jordan Spencer, Zach Eliopoulos do their homework.

10. Brooke Robishaw, Meredith Kercher, Lillian Cleary, Alex Nelson, and a host of other class mates have fun as they hone in on their Spanish skills with this crazy mirror game.

11. Will Johnson takes charge while the teacher is in the bathroom.

12. Evan Sorger, Ian Philips, and Jake Manchester monkey around by the starwef.

Juniors

13. Henry Gorrel, Matt DBello and Richard McCormack, work on computer programming during directed.

14. Brooke Robishaw and Jackie Gagnon buddy up for directed, as Jon McParland and Alex Nelson work away in the background.

15. Alyssa Romano, Sarah Gallagher, Amy Neenan tear open the inside of a skeleton, for science.

16. Connor Killian gets to work in the pod with his friend, Hannah Quinn.

17. Eddie Flaherty and Nick Papa looking fresh as always.

18. Mason Sirois, Ethan Powers, and Elliot Bates enjoy each other's company.

19. Abby McCarthy, Maddi Hill and Linda Bang pause in the hallway to smile for a picture.

20. Nora McMorrow, Fallon Queeney do some fine mud-sculpting during Ceramics class.

21. Richard McCormack and Brennan Waters quench their thirst for both water and knowledge.

22. Kaitlin Robinson, Courtney Cayer and Jeff Statile shine for the camera!

23. Cheering champs Erin Lally, Riley Noone and Kayla Eaton wear Tiger colors to prepare themselves for Sunday's Competition.

Seniors

1. A serious Harry Bouve and Jon McFarland get goofy in the hallway between classes.

2. Marissa Cain is all smiles while Josh Brown shows his serious side during directed this year.

3. An intimidating bunch, Miles Brengle, Neil Coleman, and Hayden Weatherall take a boys soccer picture in the library.

4. Elle Swenson and Hannah Lynch happily sport their matching outfits during a sunny soccer practice one day.

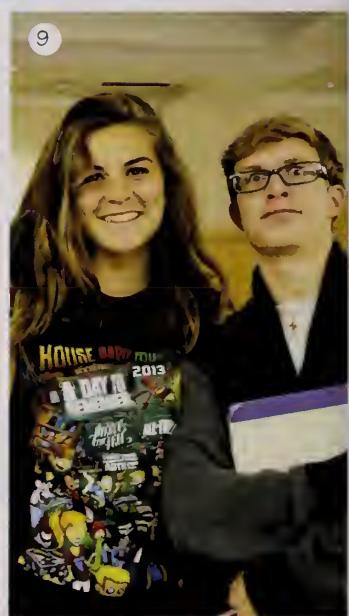

5. Childhood friends and neighbors, Sean Whaley and Sarah Walls snap a picture after school.

6. Lindsey Cohen, Abby Potter, and Meghan Folan flash happy smiles for a quick picture between classes.

7. Bayron Contreras gives pal, Courtney Cayer a piggy-back ride during a church retreat over the summer.

8. Duncan and Dane Tolstrup show some eerily identical, brotherly love during directed study this fall.

9. Bonnie Bradley and Sam Francis pose for a silly picture in the hallway.

With Underclassmen

10. Britta Galanis and Sadie Goldfarb are all smiles over the summer.

11. Dakota Petrie jumps on Shane Grady and gives a happy thumbs up during directed study.

12. Members of the girls Varsity Soccer team get together for a rainbow picture on game day.

13. Carli Hancock and Devin Smith stop for snapshot during class.

14. Anni Grard and Joanna Perry share a laugh outside over the summer.

15. Morgyn Kivekas and Keeghan Hughes smile for the camera.

16. Bayron Contreras gets goofy with Annie Zampitella during pep band one Friday night.

17. A group of boys await dinner at a friends "Sweet Sixteen" birthday party.

18. Cousins Cassandra Soffron and Celeste Petradelis take a picture together at the beach this past fall.

19. Alex Jean-Charles and Michaela Hedderman pose after a big race during CAL's at the Reggie Lewis Center.

Elevated Expectations

Junior, Kayla Eaton, elevated her routine jump when the team competed in states at Shrewsbury High School last year. "Before I go on the mat to compete, I think about how hard we have worked, and how much trust I have in my teammates to know we can hit our routine," says Kayla.

Together We Are...

FIERCE

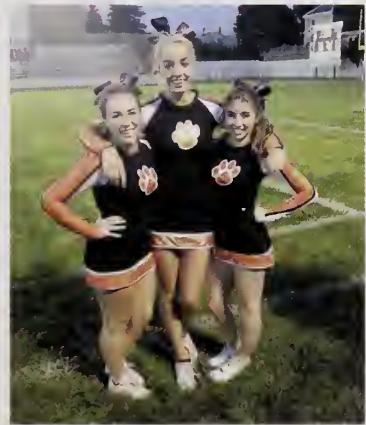

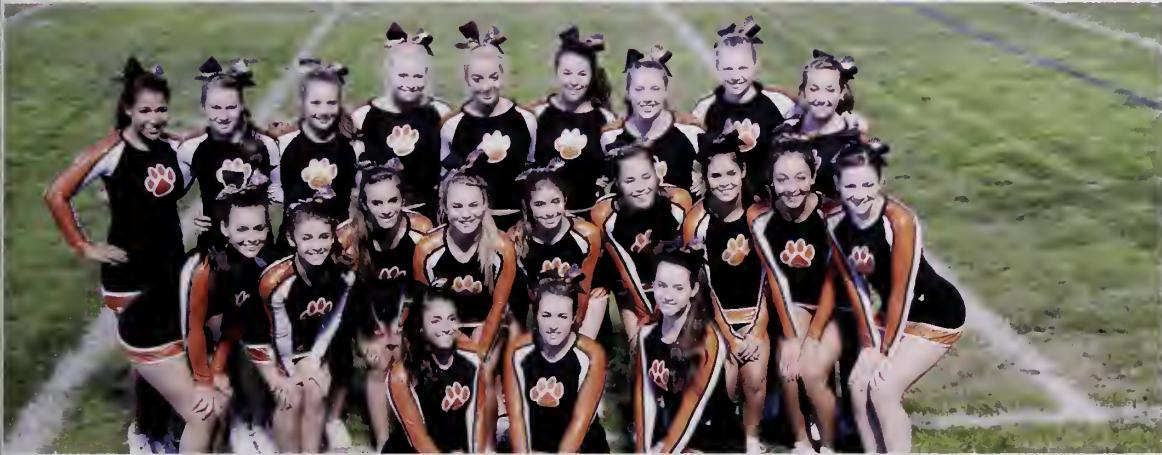

Hear her Roar

Sophomore, Jillian Cox, showed her true Tiger spirit when she struck a pose at Shrewsbury High School where the team competed in states. "Success isn't handed to us, we earn it through our hard work and dedication," says Jill.

Maia McKinney, Mariah Walker, and Stephanie DeAngelis pose proudly with their third place trophy after a fierce battle in Dallas, Texas for the NCA Competition. These three girls have been leading the team as captains for the past two years.

Together We... ENDURE

Like Thunder

The girls' team (right) line up to race down the course at the away meet in the forested hills of Newburyport. Runners Emily DeMarco and Annie Zampitella lead the pack to beat Lynnfield, in one of the best girls meets of the season.

Spirits Held High

The girls hold Nora Hughes aloft, in pre-meet celebration (left). The team scored an impressive win against Lynnfield, and even challenged the ever-feared Newburyport team for a close loss. (right, bottom) Annie Zampitella finishes strong ahead of her Newburyport rivals. (below) Emily DeMarco crosses the line for first place in the meet.

Cross Country

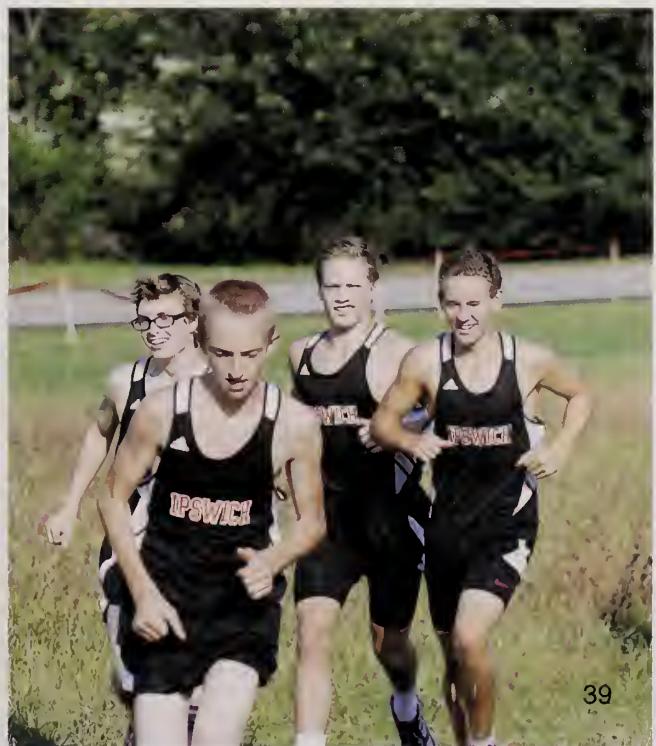

Trailblazing

Away at the Pentucket meet, the JV team, led by Jackson Friedman, blazes through the hilly terrain (left). This became a course record-setting race for many of the boy runners. (far left) Philip Menighini crosses the line just ahead of Captain Conor Fitzpatrick. (bottom, middle) Ryan Fremont-Smith fights for the finish against his Newburyport competitor.

Laughing and Passing

At the Amesbury meet; Sam Francis, Jesse Cullen-Popp, Michael Galanar, and Michael Savoie start strong at the brutal race (right). The meet was at a heat index of over 104 degrees, but the Tigers kept going. (bottom, left) Michael Connor and Justin Bergeron run together through the burning heat.

Together We Are...

INTENSE

On the Move

Sophomore Sydney Law is a versatile player, able to fill in any position that is needed. During a game, you may see Sydney scoring up front, or holding a strong defense down back!

Junior Varsity

Captains: H. Wallis, E. Brengle, E. Folan,
K. Monahan

Diving Save

Senior Hannah Lynch takes control and leaves the team with a 4-1 win against Manchester-Essex. Hannah has anchored the soccer team with her amazing saves this season. She says "I really don't mind getting my knees dirty during a game. In fact, if at the end of the game my knees are covered in dirt, it means that I've done my job. All I care about is keeping the ball out of the back of the net."

Unstoppable

Passion to Play

Senior Katie Monahan takes the ball up the field during an amazing game against Manchester-Essex. As a four year varsity player, Katie is unstoppable on the field, notorious for her powerful shots and fancy footwork. "Soccer's been a big part of my life since I was little. It's a part of my day where I don't have to think about school and other stresses. It's much easier to decide which move to pull rather than decide which college I would like to attend," says Katie.

Senior Emily Folan leads the team to victory against Amesbury, one of the team's biggest rivals. Emily never fails to play with heart. Though she is all smiles with teammates, she becomes a huge threat at game time. "My love for my team and the game itself pushes me to play my best one hundred percent of the time. No matter what, I play as if the score is 0-0." Emily looks forward to the rest of the season and hopes to excel in the tournament!

True Fighter
 Senior Matt Jaeger fights through the worst to play the game he loves. Suffering a serious injury last season, Matt returned this year stronger than ever to lead the team with his amazing scoring ability. "After coming back from last year's injury, I'm so thankful to be able to play with my team again," says Matt.

Serious Contender
 As a four year varsity team member, senior David Dick has endured all their ups and downs. Headed for the state tourney this year, David has all but forgotten the days of losing seasons. "I think we are realizing more and more about what it takes to win consistently, and the more we understand, the more we win," says David.

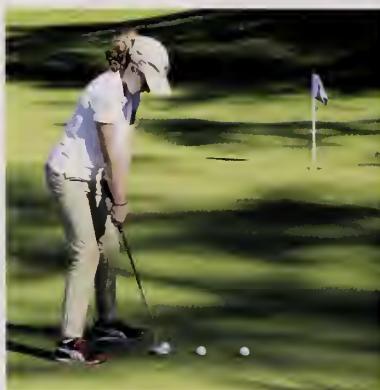

Defensive Power
 Senior Sean Whaley, proves to be a great asset on the soccer field. Quick on his feet, Sean never fails to get the team out of dangerous situations. "I take a lot of pride in the way I play and the way our team works together," says Sean. A humble player, Sean puts the team before everything.

Bunker Blast

Hitting one out of the bunker, senior Quinn O'Connor is in a cloud of dust while he continues on with winning his match with a final score of 139-127 against Saugus.

Taking in the Glory

After racking up points for their big win, Senior captain Austin Rubino (below) celebrates with a little "fist pump" on his way to retrieve his lucky ball from the cup. Teammate, co-captain Quinn O'Connor says, "The first time I picked up a golf club, I didn't know what to expect. From that day on, I fell in love with the game. All the work and practice I've put in over the years has paid off this season. #TourneyJourney!"

Varsity goalie, Ali Bouvier (left) is always in her ready position, waiting to save a shot on net. All's skills don't go unnoticed though. She is second in the CAL League. "We are having a great season and we're really connecting as a family on and off the field, which is contributing to our success.", says Ali.

The Pep Band always cheers for the Tigers. "It's important to be happy and supportive, even in an unfortunate situation!" explains senior trumpet player Ryan Davis.

Competitive Appetites

Junior, Jeff Statile, (above) defeats the other grades by a long shot in the pie eating contest. "I don't even like blueberries, but it was still fun," says Jeff when he was asked about his experience during the event.

Snapshot of a Slapshot

Freshman, McKinley Karpa, (above) takes the win during the indoor events in the hockey shoot out against the upperclassmen. When asked about her philosophy of shooting she said, "You miss 100% of the shots you don't take," which explains the powerful wrist shot she delivered into the net. A nationally recognized youth hockey player, McKinley looks forward to the upcoming hockey season and lots of ice time.

SPIRITED

Furry Freestyle

Senior, Ryan Davis, (above) raps "Can't Hold Us" by Macklemore while wearing a fur coat to kick off the pep rally on the last day of Spirit Week. "The best part was probably that no one expected me to do it. The faces of the people in the audience were priceless," says Ryan when asked about his performance.

"Gettin' Groovy" is what seniors, Hannah Wallis, Sarah Atkinson, Ellie Dolan, Anna Barnes, Britta Galanis, Lindsey Cohen, Samantha Cohen, Sophie Marsh, Zoe Dorau and Olivia Hammond (above) did while dancing to the song September performed by a large group of seniors during the talent show. "It was fun. My zest for life was at an all time high whilst on that stage. The energy was 'supes' insane, and I wouldn't have wanted to end that week with any other bang," says Sophie Marsh when asked about her experience of performing during her last talent show act.

Vote for Pedro

Teacher Mr. Sargent (to the left) played the role of Napoleon Dynamite as he danced away during the seniors teacher skit. As the whole school died in laughter, he was able to take first place for the seniors. "It's not me, you can't prove it," says Mr. Sargent when asked about the skit.

SENIOR FASHION SHOW

GLOBAL GLITZ

Seniors, John Waiswiros and Zoe Dorau, make their way down the runway in the 2013 Global Glitz Fashion Show at Ipswich Country Club. John rocks a Calvin Klein Sweater with Lee blue jeans, while Zoe sports Christopher Blue jeans with a Bod & Christiansen leather jacket and brown Ralph Lauren gloves. The night was a record breaking fundraising effort, as the majority of seniors showed off the latest trends from local stores. The class is excited and hopes to use this money to sponsor a memorable Senior Week in the spring. All would agree it was an exciting experience to be put in the spotlight in front of friends and family.

Dancing Queens

Sophomores, Olivia Kubaska and Carli Hancock, (above) enjoy their last semi together. "It was better than I expected!" Olivia said enthusiastically. Semi exceeded the sophomores' expectations. The class of 2014 made the switch from having the Semi in the school cafeteria to having it at the gym in Ipswich Town Hall. The other classes have followed in suit, and a new tradition has been born.

Best Buds

Jake Kivekas, Ashton Mandian, Thomas Cressy and Ryan Blomster (above) take a break from dancing to pose together. Ashton throws up a lazy peace sign, something that became very popular this year, as Tommy's red pants add a streak of color. Jake and Ryan finally got their chance to attend Semi after watching their older siblings attend four years ago.

Field Hockey Friends

Ciara O'Flynn, Kelsey Daly and Savanna Hill (above) goof around at Semi. The three became even closer friends this fall on the field hockey team together. "We're like sisters on and off the field!" said Ciara. Being sophomores didn't stop Ciara and Savanna from immediately finding Kelsey, the freshman, at semi and lifting her spirits.

Killian's Killin' It

Killian Morrissey (above) is cheered on by his friends as he shows off his moves on the dance floor. There was a huge turnout of freshmen at this year's Semi, as they were excited to participate in their first high school dance. Dancing was not just for the girls; Killian was one of several boys who didn't shy away from the dance floor. Semi brings together freshmen and sophomores and Killian's dance moves showed everyone how to have a good time.

Together We Are...

AGGRESSIVE

Starting Fresh

This year's girls basketball team is making a 'fresh start' all around: a new coach, new teammates, and new starters. The girls have made big adjustments this winter to fill positions vacated by long time coach Mandy Zegarowski and last year's entire starting lineup. Under the guidance of Coach Woodworth, this small team is putting in a lot of hard work to compete well against the other teams in the Cape Ann League. These girls are determined to defeat their biggest competitors during the season, and win the nine games necessary to make the tournament. "We have a lot of trust in Mr. Woodworth to get us prepared for our games but it was a big adjustment that we all had to get used to," said Bridget Curran.

Feisty Freshman

Former starter, Kelsey Daly, takes control of the floor as the point guard for the Tigers this season. Her ball handling skills are off the charts, making her a huge threat to the other teams. Being the only freshman on a varsity team can be a hard adjustment, but Kelsey already has this experience under her belt as she was also in a starting position this fall on the field hockey team.

Backbone Queen: Jenna Gagnon

Second year varsity player and backbone for the team this season, Jenna is one of the best drivers in the league and has continued to maintain her high level throughout the year, driving to the free-throw line and hitting them consistently. She is a true leader and has some impressive moves in her

Having sisters Jackie and Jenna Gagnon in the team makes a big difference in the team dynamic. "It helps us become closer as sisters as well as helping the team by creating a closer bond," Jackie stated. When on the court with one another, their connection allows them to play well together.

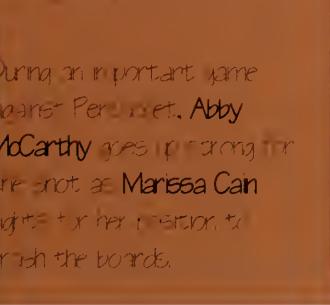

Senior Bridget Curran, and Junior Jordan Morrissey, talk on defense against Perugia. These two forwards are such a heavy force, teams have a hard time moving through the two when trying to get to the basket.

Junior Nikki Pignone, gets an offensive rebound and looks for the outlet at the top of the key. Nikki is one of the best rebounders on the team this season and always comes out strong when needed the most.

During an important game against Perugia, Abby McCarthy goes up strong for the shot as Marissa Cain fights for her position to crash the boards.

Ben Rice (above), is the team's biggest low-post threat. He knows what a team needs to be successful. "I try to take it one game at a time and stay focused on making the team better," says Ben.

Quinn O'Connor (below), knew the team would face an uphill battle at the start of the season. "It was great to see how we came together and developed as the year went along," says Quinn.

Matt Jaeger (below), 3-year varsity team member and 2-year captain, believes determination is a major key to success. "Everyone on the team has to be determined in order to be successful and achieve our goals," says Matt.

Kyle Blomster (above), 3-year varsity team member and 2-year captain, is a big advocate of hard work. "For me, it's all about giving 100% in every practice and every game. That's the only way to make your team better," says Kyle.

Senior captain, Ali Bowier, a member of the team since freshman year, is a talented athlete and a strong leader in swim. Team member, Hannah Quim, states, "Ali is an awesome captain. She's really supportive and does a great job motivating people before the meets." Ali is leaving a lasting impression on Ipswich swim and leaves future captains tough shoes to fill.

Together We Are...

Senior captain, Austin Rubino, a regular in the freestyle and breaststroke, competes in the butterfly in a meet versus Masco above. "Breaststroke is my stroke, it is definitely my favorite," said Austin. In addition to leading the swim team, Austin also captains the golf team and starts on the varsity baseball team.

FREESTYLIN'

Although this is his first year on the swim team, junior diver, Michael Savoie's, performance rarely reflects his inexperience. Michael regularly places in meets and makes difficult dives look easy. "No matter what the judges give me, I know in my mind that I succeeded," Michael says. Michael plans on diving next year and will surely be a force in the Cape Ann League.

The size of this year's swim team far surpasses that of any year previously. Many newcomers have joined because of the welcoming atmosphere and camaraderie among the athletes. When asked why she joined swim team, junior Erin Lally answered, "it seemed like a fun experience, and so far I have really liked it". Erin is among six juniors who joined swim team this year for the first time.

Change of Command

According to Senior captains Devin Smith and Jill Calvani, one of the most difficult moments of the season was when former girls' coach Sandy stepped down, and Mr. Binette took over for both teams. "We weren't sure how it would go," says Calvani, "but we're undefeated now... we're a solid team."

Cotillion 2014

With hours and hours of time involved in the planning, February 8, 2014 was a very important date for the junior and senior classes. This year's Cotillion had a huge turnout, and was themed as a "masquerade ball," allowing for masks at every table people could use as props. However, some chose not to hide behind their masks, instead showing their true selves as Harry performed a song of his own and the student body danced the night away. The Ice Cream Bar was also a big hit with everyone, including Naomi Kraeon and David Dick (far right), who had a lot of fun making their own sundaes.

Together We Are... Lively

Truancy

No matter what event, whether it is a semi-formal, a prom, or another class fundraiser, Harry Boue (above) never fails to impress his classmates with his rapping. You can find Harry in the studio recording tracks for CDs or writing songs for other musical artists. All his peers enjoy the entertainment he brings to these events, especially Alex Jean-Charles, who backed up Harry on the dance floor during this year's Cotillion.

Friends of Kpelezo

Over the summer, seniors Meghan Lindahl, Claire Gardner, Katie Monahan, and Emily Brengle ran a summer camp for the kids in the Kpelezo Community in Ghana, Africa. "It was an eye-opening experience. Everyone was so welcoming and the whole group developed relationships with the kids that we will never forget," says Katie. This past November, the entire Friends of Kpelezo group, consisting of about fifteen high school students, hosted "Pace for Kpelezo" at Mile Lane to raise money for the Kpelezo Community. "We are thankful for the people that came and donated and we all enjoy doing it which makes it that much more satisfying," remarks Marissa Cain when asked about the run.

The Maine Crew

This past summer, seniors Mike Gallahar, Quinn O'Connor, Lexi Lopez, Nicole Stone, Samantha Cohen, Hannah Wallis, Lindsey Cohen, Dave Conway, Emily Folan, Ryan Fantasia, Sean Whooley, and Sam Francis took an adventure, traveling to Mexico, Maine for a week with Beyond Sunday Missions. While they were there, they helped out a community by painting houses and helping out at Good Shepherd food bank. "It was a good experience because we helped out a ton in the community and we got to know all the people we helped. They were all so kind and grateful," Quinn O'Connor explained when asked about the trip.

Volunteers

The Guatemala Gang

During the summer going into their junior year, seniors Marissa Cain, Hannah Lynch and Ryan Freemont-Smith spent ten days building houses for families in Guatemala with Partners in Development. Also joining them were juniors Sarah Gallagher, Carly Parker, Jess Looby, and Maggie McMorrow. When asked about the trip, Ryan stated, "Everyone down there was awesome. The kids were the best part for sure, but it was the vibes coming from everyone that just made you feel great and made the trip an awesome experience".

Helping Haiti

In October, senior Kelly Phelan embarked on a trip to Haiti where she built a temporary home for a Haitian family who was previously living in a tent made out of sticks. "One thing I'll never forget is how happy and joyful the people of Haiti are. Despite the fact that they have had so much taken from them and are barely surviving on what they have, they always find a reason to smile. That's something I'll carry with me forever," Kelly responded when asked how her experience was while in Haiti.

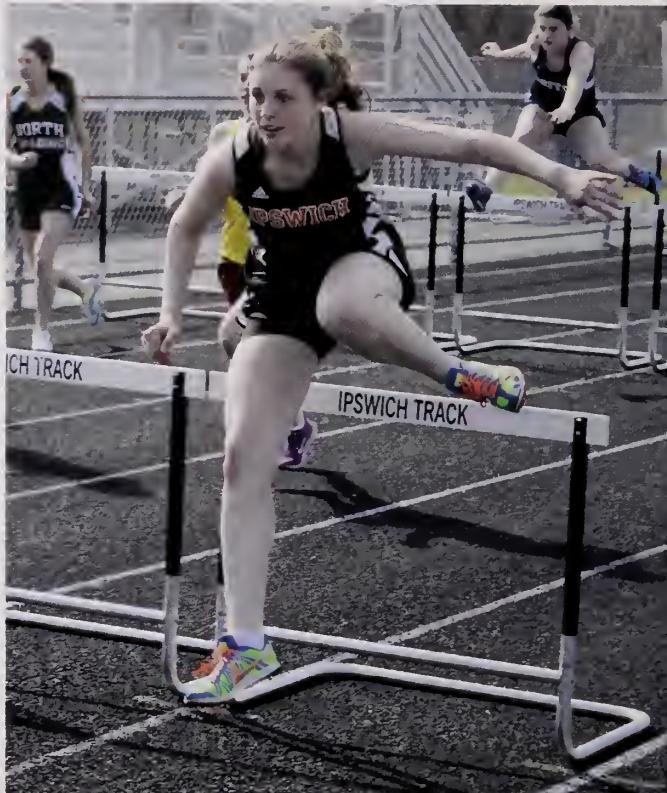

SPRING

Loving Sports Life

(Right) Senior Maria Balzer leaps over the hurdles during the 2013 spring track season. Maria's passion for sports is clearly shown in her determination and poise while playing the sports she loves. A varsity track runner, Maria has also played on the varsity soccer team. Maria loves the team atmosphere of all sports as they work together throughout the season. "The best thing about sports is that family comes out of it, having people with you every day to talk, laugh with, cry to and get through the season together as a unit. Where else can you find something like that?" said Blazer when asked about the season. Maria intends to continue her passion this year as she hurdles for both the indoor and outdoor track team.

A Love For The Game, A Love For The Season

(left) Baseball coach and beloved physical education teacher Gardy Oftlyn stands with his team for the national anthem before a game in the 2013 spring baseball season. Gardy, or "G" as many of his students call him, lives and loves spring sports. "It's the end of the school year, the weather changes and the kids are playing the sports they love," was Gardy's response when asked about spring sports.

SPORTS

Living Around the Plate

(Left) Senior Erik Gomas looks for a sign during the 2013 spring baseball season. Erik has been playing varsity baseball for almost four years and not only plays well behind the plate but also does a great job hitting. Erik along with all his other senior teammates are looking to make the state tournament this year. Erik plays all year round, including for the local Ipswich Chiefs team. With Erik's hard work ethic and his teammates love for the game, the tigers could very well put in a state tournament position this year.

Joanna Perry (below) goes for the goal during the 2013 lacrosse season, she will be returning for her junior year to help lead the lady tigers for another run at the state tournament.

Making Leaps and Bounds For the Tigers

(Right) Junior Ryan White successfully clears the bar during the 2013 spring track season. Ryan is a high jumper on the boys outdoor track team and has won multiple events over the course of his Ipswich Tiger track career. He intends to jump again this year and qualify for states along with many other hopeful Ipswich tracksters during the 2014 outdoor track and field season.

"hardworking... honest... understanding" - Libby Manos

Micki, known as Mic to students, is always pushing people to be a better person and, in some cases, athlete. Mic has been a spectacular and innovative PE teacher during her 35 years at IHS, creating programs such as the highly esteemed Project Adventure. In the 2011-2012 school year, she was recognized by the state in 2012 as High School Physical Education Teacher of the Year. Throughout her career here in Ipswich, Mic has been a coach to many teams, a friend to many students and faculty, and many people aspire to be like her. She always wishes the best for everyone, and there was never a day Mic would pass a student in the hallway without giving them a smile or saying hello. She loves to see the students involved and we will miss her enthusiasm and encouragement dearly!

Micki McVann aka Mic

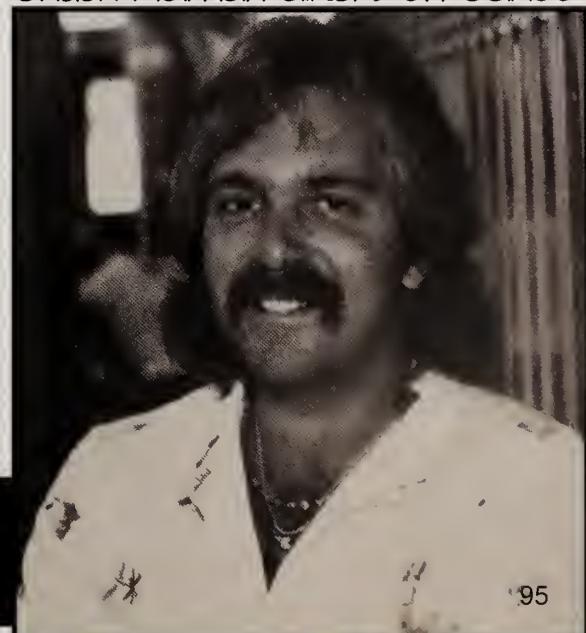

Lasting Impact

All teachers here at IHS do their fair share of helping the students, school, and community, but these two have gone above and beyond what any educator is expected to do. Spending more than enough hours after school to help clubs, teams, and other activities, the past thirty plus years, Chuck and Mick have earned a lot of respect. Mick has created the amazing Project Adventure program and oversees the fun intramural volleyball program, in which everyone loves to participate. Don has also contributed to the start of new things, as he helped create the Girls Indoor Track Program and Soccer Program during his initial years working in Ipswich. These two will be missed not only by the students, but by the faculty as well.

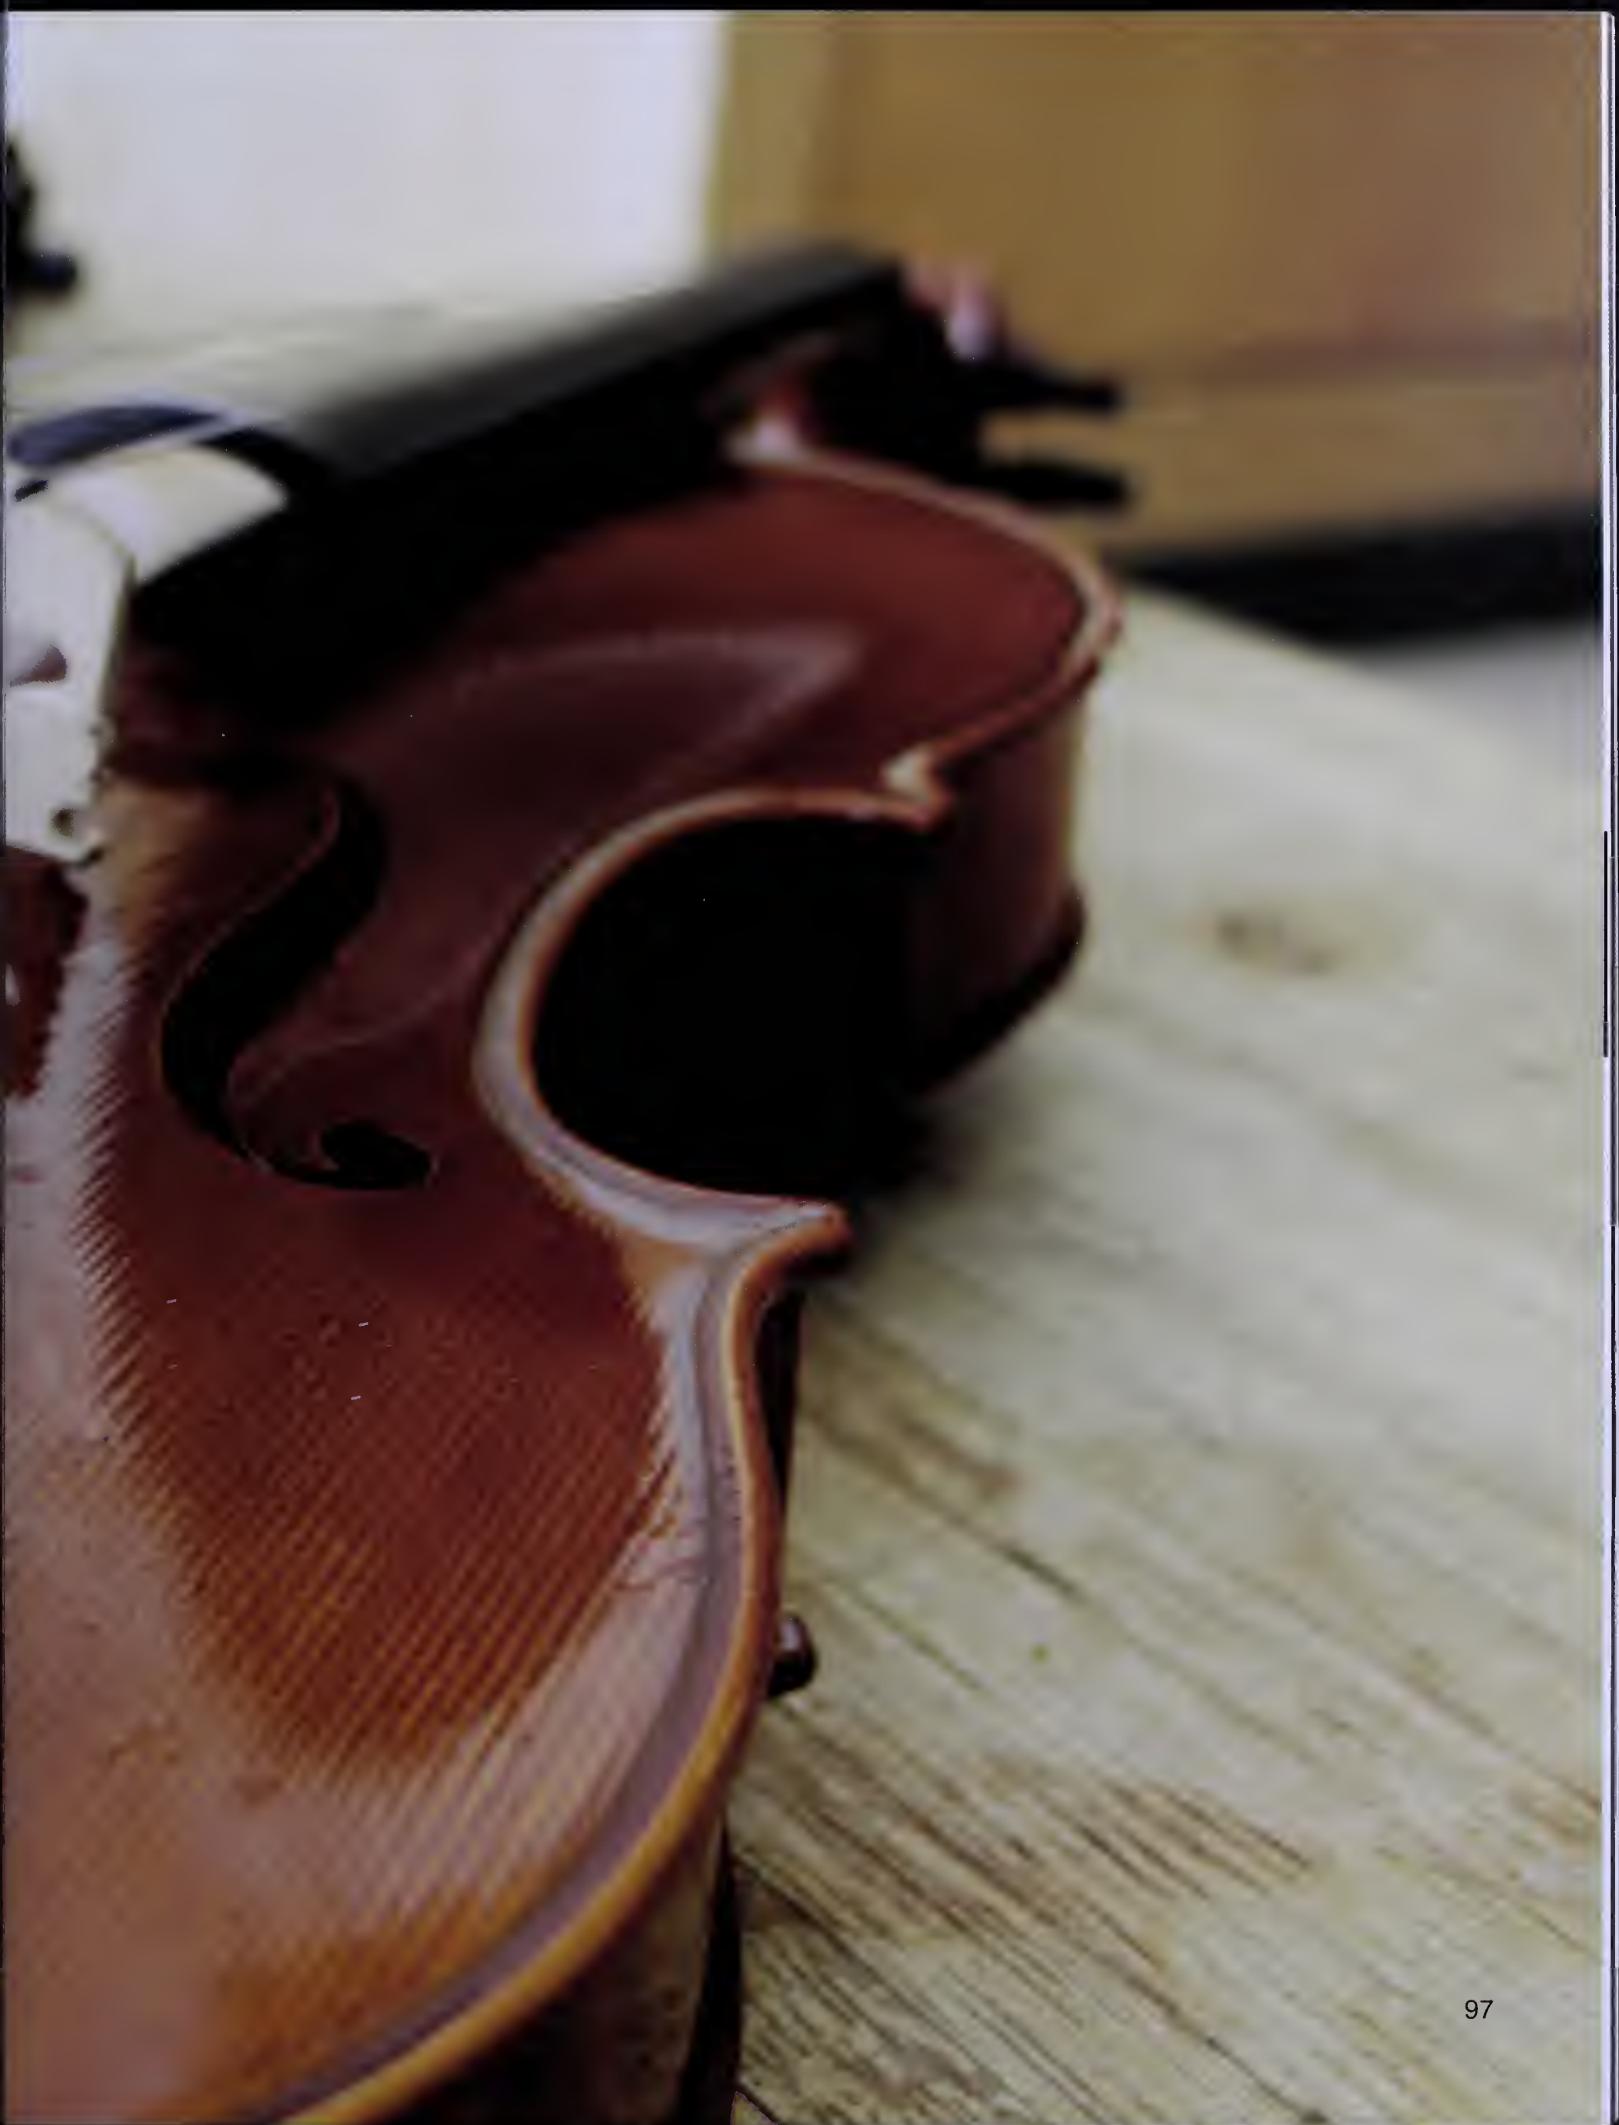

Chuck Holman aka Don Carlos

"fun... spontaneous... devoted" - Leonan Dos Santos

Chuck, affectionately called Don Carlos by the student body, has been a Spanish teacher here at IHS for 33 years. Not only has he been a huge asset to the Foreign Language Department, but in his time here at Ipswich, he has served in the role of Athletic Director, club advisor, and coach to many teams. Students love to have him for Spanish because of his fun classes and easygoing personality. If you have ever had Don, you know every day is filled with hysterical laughter and fun interactive games. Not only is he a great teacher, but a caring individual. "He is honestly one of the nicest guys I know, he's really understanding and just an awesome guy. It's clear he really cares about us," senior Devin Smith expressed when reflecting on her experience with Don Carlos during her four years at IHS. Thanks for a great 33 years Don, you will be greatly missed!

Concert Band

Dole Patrol

Band teacher, Mr. Dolan, (above) introduces the school band at the 2014 Winter Concert. As a conductor at IHS for 32 years, Mr. Dolan loves nothing more than to work with music. "Being able to study the music and connect with the composer and then bring that connection to students," makes it more than just a job to him.

Flatin' Solo

Music in the family

Senior, Connor McAdams, (above) goes around before he plays the baritone. Connor has been in band since fourth grade. He originally started out on the alto saxophone but switched to the baritone in sixth grade. He's currently in multiple bands including the North Shore Jazz All-Stars.

Senior, Cassandra Soffron, (above) performs a solo during Apote, a piece that captures the space, age and social unrest of the time it was written. When asked about the experience, Cassandra remarks, "I loved using all these extended techniques that I don't really get a chance to use in our regular classical music."

Sophomore, Matthew Naeger, (above) plays the trumpet in the Winter Concert. Music runs in Matt's family as his father is a composer. Matt is one of the strongest trumpet players in the band. "He is awesome in Jazz band and really loves playing," senior and fellow trumpet player Phoebe Howe says.

Feelin' the Beat

Junior, Chris Grady, (above) rocks out on the bongos to the festive song of Patapan during this year's Winter Concert. "Patapan was cool because it was really fast paced and rhythmic. I was able to just relax and have fun with it", says Chris when asked about the song.

Together We Are...

Musical

Keepin' it "Trill"

Senior, Libby Manos, plays alongside her classmate, Hunter Smith, (above) at the annual winter concert. Both a part of the music program since grade four, Libby and Hunter have been with one another very step of the way. "Hunter is one of my close friends so it is nice being able play with her because we can help each other with our music and can push each other to do better," says Libby.

Focused Flutist

Drop the Bass

Smooth Sax

Senior, David Dick, (above) has been a part of the school band since fourth grade. He began playing the alto sax, but switched to the bass clarinet during middle school. "I have always loved deep instruments, and when the middle school band was in need of a bass clarinet player, I was more than happy to make the switch," says David when asked about his instrument swap.

Junior, Anagh Tiwary, (above) focuses on his Baritone Saxophone. Anagh plays in both wind ensemble and jazz band. He is also not limited to playing the Baritone as he also plays the Tenor Sax and Bass Clarinet. Anagh's impressive accomplishments include playing in All-States and being invited to audition for Nationals.

Cue the Clarinets

Sophomore, Caroline Foley, (above) looks up for her cue during a concert. To Caroline, band is an escape from the stresses of school. "It is a nice break from academics, and being able to make music with my classmates is something to look forward to during the day," says Caroline when asked about her opinion on band.

Jazz Band

Members:

Standing O'

Master of Improv

Connor Fitzpatrick, commonly known as "Fitzy," improvises during the small ensemble winter concert this past year. Fitzy is a talented trumpeter and is a member of the local music group, "The BossTones."

Persson of Interest

Seth Persson, is one of two drummers in the Jazz Band this year. He shows his skills every year in the Talent Show during spirit week when he and his friend, Chris Grady, do a "drum off" for the school.

Colin Senechal, a powerful saxophone player, stands up for a solo. Mr. Dolan, the Jazz Band conductor, states, "Colin is a fabulous musician. He is a dream student for any music teacher. He just loves his instrument."

Chamber Orchestra

The Honors Chamber Orchestra is a select string orchestra which requires an audition and concurrent membership in the High School String Orchestra. Rehearsals are focused on a challenging string orchestra repertoire and include the study of chamber music in smaller group settings.

Members:

First Violin- Molle Baker, Libby Cornacchio, Maddle Werner, Lucas Callahan

Second Violin- Izabella Lidrauch, Sam Duffield, Leah Harmon, Josh Dumont

Viola- Sydhey Dumont, Anna Gibbs, Loma Burdick

Cello- Maggie Brown, Lily Stewart, Olivia Kubaska, Rebecca Putnam

Bass- Eric Duback

Top Left: Maddle Wemer and Lucas Callahan, stand partners in the chamber orchestra, and are a powerful duo in the first violin section.

Symphony Orchestra

Take a Bow

The Symphony Orchestra's Winter Holiday Concert featured a number of beautiful pieces, including a festive number entitled "Sleigh Ride."

Top Near Right: Sophomore Jill Wall has proven to be a key cellist as an underclassman.

Left: Senior Molle Baker stands up to play a tuning pitch for the orchestra before the winter concert begins.

Middle: Senior Olivia Hammond plays a crucial role in her section, ultimately bringing all the cellos together.

Left: Senior Bridget Curran proves to be a strong force in the viola section.

Right: Seniors Emily Brengle and Maddie Werner wait for their cue from Ms. Billings-White.

Choir

Together We Are... in Harmony

Show Stoppers!

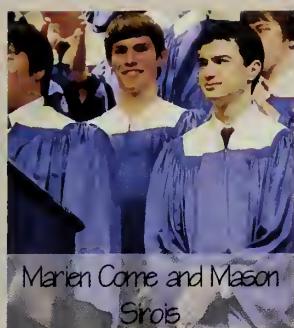

From left to right, juniors Ana Friedman, Bonnie Bradley, Emma Johnson, and seniors Erin Burt and Maddie Kilian performed so spectacularly that every single audience member was in absolute awe. Their lovely rendition of 'Winter Song' was executed so well that many people wanted an encore. Unfortunately for seniors, choir will be coming to an end and new opportunities will come their way. Not only is choir a chance to find your voice but it is also a great way to make long-lasting friends. Senior, Erin Burt opens up about choir, "Every year you grow to recognize peoples' voices and understand how everyone adds something to the overall sound. You can see how far you've come as an individual, and as a group. Being a senior makes one appreciate all the hard work that has led us to this point. Individually we make noise. Together we make sound. Mr Patch makes us music."

What a Talent to "a-choir!"

Sophomores Sofia Gadbois, Molly Stedman, and Shanelle Taylor (Front row from left to right) stun the crowd with their take on The Darkest Midight in December. Although these talented singers seem well composed during their performances many have struggled through stage fright in the past. Choir is an easy and efficient way to get over this anxiety. Junior Molly Stedman says, "I don't really have much stage fright, I just concentrate on the singing and having fun. I barely notice the people watching!" It certainly is fun and exciting to see the choir perform!

Together We Are... Inspired

A Classic in Concord

Under the leadership of a brand-new director, the Ipswich High School Theater department developed and presented their production of Little Women, a play adapted from Louisa May Alcott's novel written in 1868. The play is set in Concord, Massachusetts during the late 1800s and tells the story of the lives of the four March Sisters. Josephine March (Kelly Phelan) is book smart and loves to write. Meg March (Shannon Halliday) is the oldest, and is very polite. Amy (Raina Baier) is the youngest, and is very stubborn. Beth (Sofia Gadbois) is quiet, and a skilled pianist. All the sister's lives are followed as they form bonds, and deal with loss. Theodore 'Laurie' Lawrence (Henry Zagarella) and John Brooke (John Gayton) support the Marches.

The Show Must Go On

Throughout an impressive weekend of shows, the cast received great praise. However, out of nowhere during the Sunday afternoon show, a technical malfunction caused the lights to shut down. The play was temporarily stalled, and when the issue couldn't be resolved, the cast continued the show with just the work lights.

New Direction

Jill Hasselbacher is the new director of the theater department at Ipswich High School, and chose Little Women as the play to start her career at Ipswich. Before directing plays at Ipswich, she was the theater director at Masconomet Regional High School. Mrs. Hasselbacher will also be directing the Ipswich High School musical theater production in the spring.

Poised for Performance

The Company and The Crew

Actors: Keily Phelan, Shannon Halliday, Raina Baier, Scotia Gadbois, Henry Zagarella, Heather Colter, John Gayton, James Perakis, Moly Stedman, Joy Bergner, Sarah Atkinson, Joanna Vandyke, Emily Bartlett, Jenny Ames, Sophie Schell, Laura Staub, Christina Sotis, Julia Hutton, Shanelle Taylor, and Assistant Director Kartlyn Fullerton.

Technicians: Zoe Gilette, Emma Freeman, Josh Colameta, Colin MacEachern, Rachel McClenaghan, Julia Sabbagh, Melissa McClellan, Roman Gadbois, Luca Cassano, Mackenzie Cotton, Richard McCormack, Connor Priesby.

Thank You's and Send-Offs

Pictured above, the members of the cast thank the different directors who helped put the play together. Thank you's and presents were given to theatrical director Jill Hasselbacher, technical director Scott Ames, costume director Jo-Ann Duncan, and the stage managers and backstage technicians, including the lighting crew, who had to work extra hard on the Sunday show, when there were technical malfunctions. Senior Jenny Ames thanks her father in the picture above.

POLICE PUBLIC CALL BOX

"Allons-y!"

Built by the technicians, a colorful cardboard cutout of the TARDIS from the British science fiction television series Doctor Who graces the stage after being used in a show. "That actually isn't an accurate TARDIS. There is supposed to be a plaque on the square below the left window. Our's doesn't have that," says Sophomore Celeste Tacheron.

Applying Excellence

Upper & Under

Grouped Together: Members of the Yang Life youth group take a break from their day of wild summer fun and pose for a group shot while at summer camp. "It was one of my favorite memories from the summer" says senior Bayron Contreras.

It is not the critic who counts;
*not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes up short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.

A Poem from Pre School

Sometimes you get discouraged
Because I am so small,
And always leave my fingerprints
On furniture and walls.
But everyday I'm growing,
I'll be grown up someday,
And all these tiny
handprints
Will simply fade away.
So here's a final handprint
Just so you can recall,
Exactly how my fingers looked
When I was very small."

If you dream it, you can achieve it! You are amazing!

Love,
Mom, Dad & Bren

Heather Monroe

Congratulations, Heather!
We all are so proud of you!

Maria Balzer Pisciotta

Dearest Maria,

We knew from birth, you had great spirit. That spirit has grown into a beautiful & brilliant young woman that has passion for life & compassion for all. You're an amazing advocate with a great sense of humor, the glue of our family with a smile that lights up a room. Mia Bella Maria, the world is waiting for you to rock it. We will be watching with love & excitement as you navigate your way to success & abundance.

With so much love, Mom,
Cassandra & Domini

Olivia Moutevelis

Koukla,
You will always be our "little doll" despite the fact that you've blossomed, in every way, into an amazing and impressive young lady. (Dont ever lose the inner child in you!) We could not be prouder of you.

Love always,
Mom and Dad

P.S. Peter, Mikey, Alexa and Grant think you're awesome too!

To The Class of 2014

Looking back,
Having worked with many of you on class events, watching all of you become the people you are today has truly been a memorable experience. Always remember your roots here at IHS and in this town wherever the future takes you. Congratulations, good luck and best wishes in whatever you do!

Your class advisors,
Mrs. Rubino & Mrs. Spinale

Kelly Maloney

Congratulations, Kell!!
Such a lovely young woman you've become, right before our eyes! Follow your heart, believe in yourself and your future will shine as brightly as you do.

Love you!!
Mom, Dad & Michael

Kelly Teagan Maloney

Congratulations, Sweet Pea!

We are so proud of you! As you go out into the world, never forget... "A family is a place where you can cry and laugh and be silly or sad or angry. Where you can ask for help and tease and yell at each other and know that you will always be loved. A family is made up of people who care about you... who love you all the time, no matter what."

Now go have more adventures! Explore and experience life to its fullest knowing you always have a soft place to land where the food is good (lol!) and there's a family who loves and supports you.

Love,
Dad, Margo, Michael
& the Shrimplets

Ellie Dolan

Ellie,
From your first day of school until your last, you have shown your shining personality to everyone you meet. We are very proud of you and wish you much luck, love, happiness and friendship in all the years ahead.
